

Launched in 2009 in beautiful Green Mountain Falls, Colorado, Green Box is a year-round incubator of multi-disciplinary visual and performing arts.

1.8 Green Mountain Falls by Janet Echelman delighted audiences with its nightly illumination over Gazebo Lake at the 2019 festival. Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

We are located 90 miles SW of Denver and 10 miles W of Colorado Springs!

Exit Chipita Park Rd or Green Mountain Falls Rd off US Route 24

Outdoor performances surrounded by nature at Bear Crossing Studio are a Green Box staple and fan favorite! Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

The Reminders got the crowd dancing with their inspiring and soulful lyrics at the 2021 4th of July Black Party - another festival staple. Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

CONNECT WITH US

With robust programming and creative experiences for audiences of all ages throughout the year, Green Box continues to enrich and engage its community and visitors for generations to come.

LEARN MORE AND CONNECT WITH US:

(719) 465-3065 GREENBOXARTS.ORG
 INFO@GREENBOXARTS.ORG @GREENBOX.ARTS
 @GREENBOXARTS

For information about renting our spaces for retreats or events, please contact: info@greenboxarts.org or call: (719) 465-3065

green
box

Green Mountain Falls, Colorado

ARTS FOR EVERYONE

Cloud City by Tomás Saraceno went from the rooftop at the Metropolitan Museum of Art to the foothills of Pikes Peak in beautiful Green Mountain Falls. Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

Following a 5-week Green Box residency, the American Ballet Theatre debuted the world premiere of Collage & Creed by choreographer Silas Farley at the 2021 Green Box Arts Festival. Photo by Jeff Kearney, TDC Photography.

Culinary classes like Tamale Making with Barbara Santos-McAllister's Cocina Corazón are a hit each summer at the Green Box Arts Festival! Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

ARTS FESTIVAL

The annual Green Box Arts Festival is held each summer in the spectacular setting of Green Mountain Falls and offers curious audiences a fresh and playful approach to some of the most compelling performing and visual arts being created today.

ARTISTS-IN-RESIDENCE

The Green Box Artist-in-Residence program offers artists of national and international stature, from diverse disciplines, and at any stage in their career the opportunity to create new works while living in and engaging with the community.

Water Works 1, taken by Green Box Artist-in-Residence Irby Pace of ballroom dancers and fellow resident artists Antonina Skobina and Denys Drozdzyuk.

ARTS EDUCATION

Green Box partners with local schools, community organizations, and artists to enhance reach, furthering our commitment to nurturing creativity and appreciation for different perspectives.

Toddler Time delighted young and old at the 2021 Green Box Arts Festival. Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

Field of Light by Patrick Dougherty debuted at the 2016 Green Box Arts Festival and remained on view at Dorothy Conn Park through 2018. Photo by Tom Kimmell Photography.

ART INSTALLATIONS

Green Box is renowned for public art installations, many of which are on-view year-round. Each summer, Green Box debuts new, outdoor installations that attract thousands such as: 1.8 Green Mountain Falls by Janet Echelman, The Musical Swings by Daily tous les jours, Field of Light and Tepes by Bruce Munro, and Footprint in Green by Patrick Dougherty.

Skyspace rendering by HSE Architects, Oklahoma City.

A Skyspace created by internationally-renowned contemporary light and space artist James Turrell is Green Box's latest permanent installation. Beginning with an inspirational journey, the viewer arrives at the final destination where perception of nature and sky shifts through contemporary light and space – a sensory and contemplative experience unlike anywhere else in the world.